RETAIL SUPPLY CHAIN & LOGISTICS >> UK EDITION

WELCOME TO

RSCCL

If the past two years have shown us one thing, it's the incredible importance and diversity of the UK's retail supply chain! The massive increase in online consumer spending in the past years could easily have brought the supply of goods across the country to a halt, yet instead we have seen the emergence of incredible new logistics technologies and solutions which have not only allowed supply chains to remain functional, but also to thrive, become more advanced and increase efficiency!

As a retailer, there has never been a more important time to ensure that your supply chain is both optimised and modernised, and at the Retail Supply Chain and Logistics Expo 2022, we'll be bringing you everything you need to ensure that you achieve both.

From the world-class content delivered by industry leaders to the innovative exhibitors making waves at the forefront of the industry, the show has been designed specifically to help you take your supply chain and logistics to the next level, provide the experience that your end users have come to expect, and ultimately remain competitive when it matters most... right now!

Welcome to the Retail Supply Chain & Logistics Expo!

The Next Era of Growth: Shaping the Future of Retail and eComm with Connected Brands

Significant digital acceleration, plus shifting consumer behaviour and expectations of retail brands, means the way brands are being built is changing. Welcome to the next era of growth, where connected brands grow by connecting with people in different ways based on what matters most to them.

In this session, hear about Meta's new brand building study, with key findings to help marketers shift brand metrics, including three multipliers to supercharge brand campaigns:

- Connected Voices: choosing the best audience to voice your brand stories
- Connected Experiences: offering new ways to connect with different audiences by increasing brand touchpoints
- Connected Discovery: using a shoppable layer to make the purchase easy when in a discovery mindset

Multi-channel & Multi-territory Fulfilment Made Easy

Customers like the speed and convenience of shopping online, and expect a fast turnaround of their orders. They expect the goods to match the product description, be in perfect condition and delivered quickly anywhere in the world. Delays, high shipping costs and errors will be detrimental to your brand reputation. Retailers need secure warehousing facilities, robust real-time stock management processes, and strong domestic and international shipping options to meet expectations.

Top tips when it comes to successful NETWORKING

Whether you're looking for your next business partner, investor or even your next career move, there's still nothing that makes a lasting first impression like the passing of a business card through face-to-face networking.

Designed specifically to provide you with an all-encompassing platform to optimise your business, our show provides an unprecedented networking platform, enabling thousands of professionals from across the globe to develop their own professional knowledge, pass on their industry insight, and cultivate invaluable new business contacts.

With this in mind, we've put together our top tips for building your network, so be sure to put them to the test in this year's networking area!

01 ASK QUESTIONS

The best way to engage with people is to make real connections, so take the time to ask their opinions on the topics that matter - you'll quickly find some common ground and build rapport.

02 TAKE IT SERIOUSLY

We all know the benefits of networking, but many of us struggle to make the most of the opportunity offered to us at a trade show. Make a plan: who do you want to talk to? How are you going to build a connection? Even write notes on their business card so you can remember what you discussed when it comes to following up later.

03 BE PREPARED

If there's somebody you'd love to meet at the show, don't just hope to bump into them! Of course, you never know who you could meet in the networking area, but if you're serious about meeting face to face with someone, why not invite them to meet up beforehand?

04 BE SPECIFIC

The power of networking lies in building meaningful connections, so it's better to have fewer, quality conversations with the right people than spread yourself too thinly and make little impact. Think about who you really want to meet first - checking our exhibitor listings in the showguide is a great place to start!

05 UPDATE YOUR BUSINESS CARDS

How often have you been just about to hand over your card to a potential client when you realise your number - or job title - has changed? Get your cards updated now and have a seamless handover at the event.

06 GET STUCK IN

The only way you can make new contacts is to be fearless and set about introducing yourself, whether that's in the networking area, or on someone's stand. And remember - a smile is a great way to start a conversation!
